WEST POINT GAME-Today.

University Team Leaves This Morning; Yesterday's Practice, and the Line-up.

The University football team will play the Yale team at 2:30 today at West Point. The coach will leave Princeton this morning at 5 o'clock, arriving in Jersey City at 9:18. They will be taken up to West Point on the private yacht 'May,' owned by Alexander Van Vechten, '64, of Philadelphia. chapel will be served on board until the arrival at West Point. The squad will leave I. McCollum immediately after ball and game and reach Princeton tonight. The probable line-up will be as follows:

Princeton: West Point.
Davis 1. e. Selfridge
1. t. McFarland
Wright 1. g. Riley
q. d. Pearson
Edwin Skelton, Arthur C. Schraper
Bailie r. g. Seagrave
DeWitt t. r. Brinker
McKee J. B., Phillips
Freeman q. d. Daly
Phelps
McCord f. b. Graves
Yale: Captain was yesterday afternoon and was still somewhat lighter than usual, in view of the game to precede. The regular practice of the West Point team, and kicking. Bayles and Henry shape up for a good going. Henry in high order. The practice itself was especially remarkable only practice on the one side, a yard line made against the second team. Particular note was made of the field under kick and few gains were made by running back the ball. The team under the direction of that win has been a handsome one, and the only change is the addition of a man, making the tackle being invariably blocked by other, in case of failure.
After the practice, the line men of the first team were given a drill upon attacks on goal and tackle. In this the practice was particularly successful. The first team met these attacks with firmness, holding for small or no gains.
Yesterday morning, the starting form of the line work was the driven giving the men in breaking through lack-kick formation and blocking the kicks, with a view of offsetting the strength of the West Point team in this region.

YALE DEBATE TEAM CHosen.

Last Night at the Final Trials in Murray Hall. The Judges Who Will Officiate on December Sixth.

The final trials for the choice of the Harvard-Yale debate team were held yesterday afternoon in Murray Hall. The eight men chosen to compose the team: W. R. Anthony, 1902, J. G. Sims, 1902, and J. F. Forrell, 1904. The debate will be held on the 6th December.

The Harvard team will play the Yale team on the 27th of November. The order of play, that of the Harvard team will be announced at the next meeting of the board.

PRINCETON—Academic Literature Match to be Played in Princeton College Library Today.

The final trial of the annual academic match between Harvard and Princeton, which will be held in the Princeton library, will take place on the 27th of November. The order of play, that of the Harvard team will be announced at the next meeting of the board.

DUAL CHESS TOURNAMENT.

Announcing the annual academic match between Harvard and Princeton, which will be held in the Princeton library, will take place on the 27th of November. The order of play, that of the Harvard team will be announced at the next meeting of the board.
Saturday, November 9, 1901.

THE FOOTBALL GAMES TO-DAY.

Great interest is taken in both the games to-day in which Princeton is represented, that of the University team with West Point, and that of the Freshmen against Yale 1901, in New Haven. A large number of men will attend the West Point game, and the team will be well supported by them. The Freshmen play their championship game to-day, and we wish them the best of success. The work of the men on the team has been excellent throughout the season. Although they will be handicapped somewhat in not having all their best players with them, they still have a strong team and one from which the best results possible may be expected.

THE YALE DEBATE TEAM.

The successful competitors for the Yale Debate team and the alternates are to be congratulated upon their work of last evening. The debate was an exceptionally close one as was shown by the length of time the judges took in arriving at a decision. If anything can be gathered from last night’s debate the question is one of the most interesting and one of the most evenly balanced subjects ever submitted for an intercollegiate contest. Neither side could claim any marked advantage over the other. The undergraduates wish the men the very best of success in the work of preparation and in the final debate, and they all will receive the hearty support and encouragement of the entire body of students. We also wish to thank Mr. Covingston for consenting to act as coach again this year. In their choice of him the team and the committee has another cause for congratulation.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN.

The daily cross country run started from Breakey Track yesterday afternoon at 1:45 o’clock, R. E. Williams 1902, having general charge of the run and setting the pace. The day was favorable for long distance running, and all finished in three minutes better time than was made yesterday, covering the five and a half miles of the course in 42 minutes. Of the seventeen candidates out today, fourteen were from the Sophomore Class. The management urges that, in view of the inter-class run to be held in the near future, more candidates from the other classes appear in the daily runs. The following men took part in today’s run: 1902—C. S. Sierceroben; 1903—J. C. Ames; 1904—P. C. De Rondle, B. Woodruff, R. Van Vlakha, A. A. Addie, P. C. Smith, L. F. Stevens, S. W. Root, W. M. Stevens, G. W. Goldsmith, W. Woods, Floyd Steely, J. J. Heard, R. A. Williams, R. K. Willoy 1905—E. Wallower.

DR. HADDON'S ADDRESS.
Dr. A. HADDON, D. Sc., of Cambridge University, England, will lecture on "Some Problems in Anthropology," to-day at noon, in the Philosophical Seminary Room, University Library. Upperclassmen interested in this subject, graduate students, and members of the faculty are invited to attend. J. Mark Baldwin.

The regular cross country run will start from Brokaw tank this afternoon, at 1:15 o'clock.

MONSIEUR HUGUES LEBOURX TO LECTURE IN PRINCETON.

On Thursday evening, March 20, 1902, Monsieur Hugues Lebourx of France, will deliver a lecture in French at Princeton under the auspices of the French Department of the University French Department, the subject to be announced later. It is hoped that the lecture may be started in a few weeks. It is made possible through the liberality of M. Taylor Pye.

There have been for a number of years one of the most successful lecturers in America, and in addition, is the distinguished author of many short stories and descriptions of the many phases of Parisian life. He will continue this winter the annual series of lectures which are delivered before the Cercle Francais of Harvard University, and which have been given in past years by such eminent men of letters as M. René Drouyn, M. Edouard Rod, M. Brunetille and M. Gaston Danchamps.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN.

As was announced some days ago in the course of the trustees' meeting, several courses in Architecture have recently been established, and Professor Howard Crosby Butler has been invited to act as lecturer in this department. These courses are to be given at least to three classes in 1902, and later on, in a four years' course such as is given at Columbia, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and similar institutions.

New courses which are to begin in the second term of this year, are as follows: courses 1 and 2, Senior electives, two hours each term; courses 3 and 4, which are to be graduate courses, two hours both terms; and courses 5 and 6, which are to be lectures on "Ecclesiastical Architecture in the Fourth to the Twelfth Century." The requirements for this course are an elementary knowledge of the history of Christian art and of medieval history, and an ability to read French. Courses 3 and 4 are to be supplemented by 5 and 6, which are also graduate courses, two hours both terms, and are to be lectures on "Ecclesiastical Architecture from the Twelfth to the Sixteenth Century." The requirements for courses 5 and 6 are the same as those for 3 and 4.

The high jump in the Cornell inter-class track meet was taken by H. C. G. O. '04, formerly a Princeton undergraduate.

THE "PRINCETON" 1902 CALENDAR.

The "Princeton" 1902 Calendar, which has recently appeared, is the work of Pemblyn Stanley Adamson, 1901. The calendar consists of seventeen pages, one for each month and five, in colors, for the seasons and covers. The calendar contains some of the artist's best work, the drawings in color being particularly clever. The pictures represent the various phases of campus life, mental and sentimental, and introduce many of the University buildings. The calendar also contains a dedicatory poem by the artist to the Class of 1902.

TO-DAY'S FOOTBALL GAMES.

The following is a list of the more important football games to be played to-day:

Tall: Yale vs. Orange Athletic Club, at New Haven; Columbia vs. Princeton, N. Y.; New York; New York University vs. Trinity, at Hartford; Harvard; New York University vs. the Military of Pennsylvania; at Philadelphia; Cornell vs. Lehigh, at Ithaca; Williams vs. Wesleyan, at Middletown; Cornell vs. Annapolis, at Annapolis; Rutgers vs Haverford; Lafayette vs. Brown; Southward vs. Dickinson; vs. Carlinville. University of Michigan at University of Maryland; 1st Michigan State University at Columbus; University of Chicago vs. Northwestern University, at Chicago.

ADDRESSES TO THE LIBRARY.

Mr. Adrian H. Jolline has presented to the Library an autograph letter dated Aug. 27, 1779, from Timothy Pickering, adjutant-general in the Continental Army, to Thomas Bradford, Deputy Commissary of Prisoners, asking him to deliver "to the Reverend Dr. Witherspoon, James Key and John Field, two prisoners of war of the 71st British Regiment, to whom I have lent my book", to him at Princeton, N. J., for whom the Doctor is to be accountable. This letter is an interesting and important part of the history of President Witherspoon's connection with the American Revolution, because the continental records at Washington do not show that Dr. Witherspoon ever handed in an account of this transaction, or of another the following, very similar to this. A few years after, Col. Geo. Morgan, of Princeton, asked Congress for reimbursement of his exdpenses in connection with the education of three Indian youths at Princeton, Congress referred him to President Witherspoon, who still had funds belonging to British prisoners for whom he had been accountable. President Witherspoon protested the claim and a controversy followed, which was cut short by a congressional appropriation.

S. B. Long 1903, has presented to the Library a facsimile of Indian manuscripts of a different kind. They are two volumes of mathematical lectures taken in 1788 and 1789 by the celbcrated diviné, Dr. Samuel Miller of Princeton Theological Seminary, while an undergraduate at the University of Pennsylvania. The enclosed Mathematical Compendium; or A Short System of
