THE GEOLOGICAL EXPEDITION.

In view of the interest being taken in the Geological Expedition to the Bad Lands during the coming summer, a sketch of last year's trip may be of interest.

The party left New York June 16th, for Chadron, Nebraska, arriving there on the 20th. There it was met by Mr. Hittner known by a few honest souls.

From the camp a trip was made to the Medicine Rock Agency of the Ogala, a tribe of Sioux Indians, and on the third day pitched camp on the banks of the White river in the Bad Lands, three miles from where the digging was to be carried on.

Many type specimens, and some exceedingly rare ones were found, among them complete skeletons of animals hitherto known by a few bones only.

At the conclusion of their trip, the party turned their camp to the Yellowstone Park, the Fourth of July was spent in Hermosa, where the party participated in a celebration and parade. A visit was made by rail to Hot Springs and the Wind Cave. The Expedition then skirted the edge of the Black Hills, passing through Fort Mead, Sturgis, Whitehead and Spearfish, taking a short trip from there to Deadwood and the silver mines at Lead City.

On July 9th the party crossed into Wyoming near Sundance, following the Belle Fourche river to Pumpkin Buttes, enjoying two days of excellent antelope hunting. They reached Powder river on the 13th, and struck the Fort Peot- tern road, crossing Powder river at Powder River Postoffice. They followed the north fork of the river until, on the 18th, they reached the Big Horn mountains, and on the 18th the Ten Sleep Meadows, where they camped, intending to spend a few days hunting, but were forced to leave on account of the mosquitoes and buffalo grunts, which worried the horses and kept them from getting a much-needed rest.

On the 23rd they reached Haysville, where they got their final outfit, leaving Deadwood. On the 24th they crossed the Big Horn river at Alamos, and reached Corbett on the 26th. From there they strung off northwest toward the Shoshone mountains, and, having great difficulty in getting their wagons through, reached Cook, Montana, on August 1st. Taking a trip of twelve days through the Yellowstone National Park and visiting the Mammoth Hot Springs, Geyser Basins, Yellowstone Lake and Grand Canon, they reached Livingston, Montana, on the 15th. They then went over the Northern Pacific railroad to Billings, struck off east through a dry and uninhabited country to Fort Custer. They arrived there on August 22nd, the very day that the railroad was finished to that point. The party, fortunately, was able to go by rail from there to Sheridan, Wyoming, a distance of eighty-three miles, on a construction train, their beds being spread on flat cars. From Sheridan they returned to Chadron by rail, and thence to Chicago, arriving there on August 27th. The trip was the most successful ever attempted, both from a scientific standpoint in the number of specimens secured, and in the pleasure and profit afforded the members of the party.

A total distance of over 5,000 miles was travelled, of which nearly 1,200 was on horseback.

SOCIOLGICAL CLUB.

The Sociological Club at the seminary will hold its bi-weekly meeting to-night and will be addressed by J. M. Brodnax, H. K. Deinterga and C. F. Morrison. The theme for the meeting will be "The Relation of the Church to Charities." Each speaker will make a few introductory remarks and the question will then be thrown open for general discussion.

SECSI-CE-rLEBRATION COMMITTEE MEETING.

The committee on the sesqui-centennial celebration met at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Trustees' room on call of the chairman, Mr. Charles E. Green. Prof. Andrew West was elected permanent secretary. The following gentlemen were present: Hon. and the Most Rev., the Rev. Dr. Patton, Professor William Henry Green, Rev. Dr. Craven, Hon. Thomas N. McCarter, Colonel J. J. McCook, Rev. S. Bayard Doy, Mr. M. Taylor Pyne, Mr. Cyrus H. McCormick, Dr. M. Allan Slay, Mr. Richard Cadwalader, Rev. Dr. Howard Duffield and Mr. J. Bayard Henry.

In addition to these gentlemen, the following members of the faculty were present: Dean Murry, Professors Cameron, Drackett, Shields, Shanes, Marquand, Magie, Libby, Woodrow Wilcox, J. J. Gaspar, Mr. H. C. Osborn, college treasurer.

The meeting was a preliminary one, and was held for the purpose of discussing in a general way the plans for the approaching celebration.

THE PHILADELPHIAN SOCIETY.

Dr. Samuel Alexander, '79, of New York, addressed a well attended meeting of the Philadaephiian Society last Wednesday evening. He spoke of his career as the basis of his talk and sketched his life briefly through his rise and fall. Two lessons were drawn from Saul's life: first, that a definite purpose in life, based on fixed principles, is the only means of safety, and that implicit obedience is the only road to success. He closed with an appeal to all undecided men to accept this fixed principle in their life.

President Patton will address the society next Thursday evening, and will take 'or his subject: 'The Divinity of Christ.'

CAMERA CLUB.

Quite a large number of men assembled in 5 North Reunion last evening for the organization of a college camera club. A great deal of interest has been taken in photographic work in the college and the club is sure to be a success. The following officers were elected: President, W. H. Schoonmaker, '96, president and the following officers were elected: President, A. B. Jones, '96; secretary, W. McLean, '96; treasurer, H. E. Mattson, '97. An executive committee consisting of the officers and one man from each class was appointed to interest men in the work.

of the association is to form a club for the interchange of negatives. Work will be exchanged with other college camera clubs and every effort will be made toward insuring the club's success.

A number of professors have expressed themselves warmly in favor of the organization and have offered to lecture before the club. It is hoped that an exhibition of photographs may be held when the association is fully organized.

THE BOXING CLASS.

There seems to be a general misunderstanding as to the boxing class. All the names which have already been handed in must be sent to Prof. Caci- fini at Nassau Hotel. The students of Princeton have always lacked opportunities to receive lessons in boxing. Prof. Cacifini comes from West Point and U. S. M. A. with the best of references as to his ability to instruct classes. The class will begin work on Monday, 18th.

So it is necessary for the rolls to be made up as soon as possible. If there is a class of sufficient number, all probability lessons will be given in succeeding years.

WHIST CLUB.

At a meeting of the men interested in whist last evening at 16 S. E. a permanent whist club was organized. The following officers were elected: Presi- dent, Seymour, '95; vice-president, Mc- Lean, '96; treasurer, Stewart, '95; sec- retary, Miller, '96. It was decided to hold an open duplicate whist tournament this year. All men who desire to enter will please send their names to Miller, '96, 12 East Brown with fifty cents entrance fee before next Wednesday, March 20th.

NOTICES.

All candidates for the freshman base- ball team will report for practice at the cage at 9 a.m., Monday, March 19th.

Those members of the college interested in having a course of military tactics and drill given in Princeton are requested to meet in the Old Chapel 1 p.m., Wednesday, March 29th.

HAULTED OBSERVATORY.

The Haulted Observatory will be open to the juniors from 8 to 11 p.m., Sat- urday evening if the weather is favorable. Object: The Nebula of Orion. If Saturday evening is cloudy, the appointment holds for the first clear evening next week; Sunday, Thursday and Fri- day excused.

ADVERTISERS.

The notice which calls candidates for the freshman nine to the cage for regular work deserves the attention of all. The class of '93 has shown up fairly well in furnishing Varsity material, but it should be borne in mind that the mere fact of having tried for the Varsity does not necessarily secure a position on the freshman team. The new plan of having an upper class manager promises to work well both from a financial standpoint and in arranging an interesting schedule. Now all that remains for the freshmen is to furnish nine competent ball players, but these nine ought to be the result of eager competition. With a winning Varsity, a strong second nine, and a creditable freshman team, the baseball season of '93 will be most interesting.

It is perhaps but natural that this matter of a sesqui-centennial celebration should be regarded by many of the undergraduates as rather a vague indefinite affair only to be discussed behind the closed doors of trustee meetings. To arrange for a suitable celebration which shall be at all commensurate with its object, involves an almost in calculable amount of preliminary work which is necessarily of a desultory character, but which is none the less important and trying. But to be completely successful any movement of this nature must be understood and backed by every one who is or has been connected with the University in any way. And it is with this in view that we suggest that careful attention be paid to whatever is published on this subject; and that it be freely discussed. We hope at an early date to present a more definite statement which will outline the nature and aim of the proposed celebration.

LITERARY NOTES.

This latest volume of Mr. Aldrich's poems contains some charming verse.

All of the poems are short, many being simply stanzae. There is little ambition in the book, but like most of the author's poetry it shows a finish and polish conferred by talent. He has a gift of transforming the every-day thoughts and experiences of modern people into poetry, and expressing them in delicate form. The brief snatches of song, including the seven sonnets, seem to be the best. The wide margins and neat typography add much to the volume's attraction.
