OPENING EXERCISES.

The University was formally opened for the work of the coming year on Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock. At that hour exercises, conducted by President Patton, were held in Marquand Chapel, and were attended by a large number of the faculty and students. A short devotional service, Dr. Patton made an address which was devoted largely to an announcement of the changes which the trustees have decided to make in the management and curriculum of the University. Hereafter the faculty will be divided into two co-ordinate sub-faculties the one to have entire charge over the academic departments and the other to exercise a similar control over the affairs of the scientific school. The most radical alterations in the curriculum will be in the scientific school where in the B. S. department Latin will be introduced into the work of the Freshman year and General History into that of the Sophomore year. There is also to be a new course in Organic Chemistry. All the required work in political economy was being discussed by which indiscernible elective of courses would be done away with and greater room be given for specialized work. After some brief remarks to the members of the Freshman class the exercises were closed with the benediction.

NOTICES.

The University Library will be open hereafter until 10 p. m.
