RHEE TELLS OF OUR TREATY WITH KOREA

Korean Leader Discusses Treaty by William J. Reiter, Washington—Aid to the Korean Independence.

KOREA FULFILLED ITS TREATY OBLIGATIONS

Never Was Able to Present Case to Washington—Americans In Ignorance.

By SYMON RHEE
Leader of Korean Independence Movement.

Treaties between Korea and the leading Powers of the world were concluded between 1871 and 1895.
In these treaties all the powers, including Japan, recognized the inden-tuity of Korea, and have maintained diplomatic representatives in Seoul, up to the time of the annex-tion by Japan.
The treaty between the United States and Korea was concluded in May, 1882, as amended by the United States Senate in February, 1893, and was promulgated by President Arthur in April, 1889. The American Legation was established in Seoul in the winter of the same year, and General Forster, a Civil appt. in Beirut,
was appointed the first United States Minister to the Court of Seoul. The following year the American Government sent Prince Min as the first Ambassador to Washington.
The subject of this article, the 1
of the American-Korean Treaty stipulates in case either of the contrary parties in this treaty is unjustly dealt with by a third party,
the other would protect it. The exact wording of this clause is as follows:

Terms of Treaty.

"There shall be perpetual peace and friendship between the United States of the United States and the King of the Chosen and the Chiefs and subjects of the said Korean Government.
"If other powers deal unjustly or oppressively with either Government, the other shall afford it its good offices.

GREENFELL IS FOUNDER OF WORK ON LABRADOR COAST

Served as a Major with Harvard Medical Unit—Well-Known as a Writer.

Sir Wilfred Grenfell, who is to lecture in Alexander Hall Monday night, has a rich background of experience from which to draw material for his interesting speeches and remonds books.

Starting his life-work in 1899 as a medical missionary for deep sea ferrums, he crisscrossed the seas from the Bay of Biscay to Ireland. Reaching Labrador in 1892, he immediately set to work in the area and has been there found there. He built three large hospitals and three cottage hospitals or dis-ceptories, of which the one in St. Anthony, Newfoundland, and also began a series of cooperative stores and a number of small indusries. He also built an orphanage and a school for girls.

In 1912, after ten years spent in col-collecting funds, Dr. Grenfell opened in St. John’s the King George the Fifth Sasmane’s Institute.

YALE FREMEN MEET 1923 TEAM TO-MORROW

Undergraduates Should Apply to Indi-

dividual Houses—All Previous Lists Are Included.

There are still a number of rooms available for the accommodation of students who may attend the Prom on November 7th. Men desing accommodations for guests should apply to the address which comprises a complete list of all the rooms which have been offered to the students.

MARK LAST SHORTS OF MEN WHO DIED IN WAR

Bronze stars are to be placed on the window sills of the rooms last occupied by Princeton men who lost their lives in the war. This work of commemoration is to be done by the Society of the Class. Each star will be about eight inches in diameter, and will bear the name and class of the man in whose honor it is placed.
All of them, about 150, will probably be put in position before Christmas.

For it is very appropriate that this honor should be done Princeton's dead by the Society of the Class, as the qualification for membership in the Society is to have done an unusual service for Princeton.

OPEN LIBRARY ON SUNDAY

The history reference reading room in the Pyne Library will be open here-cordially to students at all times for room for the use of those men who wish to do their history reference work in there.

The books, reserved at the desk, will also be laid out in Chancellor Library for the public to use. Every evenning the student wishing this will leave a slip stating the title of the book he wishes to have, and the book will be delivered at the request of next morning.

PRERTE MEETS PRINCETON OFFICE TO-DAY FROM 2 TO 3 P.M.

Prom tickets will again be sold at the Princeton Office to-day from 2 to 3 p.m. Men are reminded that three tickets should be purchased at once, as the price will be raised at the first of next week.

1923 SOKIPEE SURVIVE CUT IN BEESE IN P resource competition

As the result of a recent cut, the following 15 Sophomores have been in-

The Board wishes to give the Junior Class an opportunity to make sug-genations as to whom this year's Bree will be dedicated, and will be gratu-ify as many as possible of such suggestions be handed to some member of the Board. Due to labor conditions, it will be impossible to get the Bree this year before Christmas, but it will appear some time in January.

NO SPECIAL TRAINS WILL BE RUN FOR YALE GAME

Impossible to Arrange Any Princeton Specials to New Haven—Extra Public Service.

Word has been received from the Undergraduates Reinforcement statement that it will be unable to furnish a special Club Train, or any other train, to carry students going to New Haven for the Princeton-Yale game.
While extra service will be given, the library will doubtless be crowded during the run. No Princeton undergraduates.

The following is a quotation from a student:

"Answering your telegram of October 28th, beg to advise that we have just learned from the New York
New Haven & Hartford Railroad that owing to the extremely heavy travel
expected on the Princeton game,
the extra Yale-Special will leave
New Haven Monday night at 11:30.

According to the teachers yesterday, the backfield will be composed of Strubing, DeStefano, Murray, and Wittine. Trintle is suffering from a stiff neck in a little pain. Neither Garrity or Lourie is yet back in condition, and Keck is not at full strength.

LEAGUE SOCCER SEASON OPENS WITH PENN GAME

Bolster Offense for To-Morrow's Contest—Was Weakest Point in Crescent A. C. Game.

With the opening of the game in the Intercollegiate League season with Pennsylvania coming to-morrow at 7:15 on Goldie Field, the University soccer team has shown better form in the practices of this week than ever before since the opening of the college. The most apparent weakness of the team was in the offensiveness, which Princeton lost by the score of 1 to 0, was the poor offensive work of the members of the back four. Here the ball was in their territory, they played well, but whenever it was sent into deep territory, they would be unable to make the accurate shots necessary for a goal.

This week they have been special stress on this phase of the game during the recent practices, and the team has

This year has reached tremendous heights and it is in the colleges that America looks to develop her future players who are to withstand the invasion of the European countries. However, tennis can be put upon a Varsity major-sport footing, there are a few points to be made in order to assure as a major sport.
First, it is a recognized fact that excelling benefits a team. Therefore, Princeton must have a tennis professional whose especial duty will be in coaching the University and Freshman teams along with his private instruction to individuals who may so desire to better their games. Second, the courts must be kept in better condition and a light and dark background put up at either end of the courts; also, arrangements must be made for seating the spectators at the matches.
Thirdly, the tennis management must see to it that the New York press is kept informed of the schedules the matches play, and those who come to this in the way interest is developed in college tennis and a greater stimulus given to the efforts of the players. Fourth, the dues to the Tennis Club should be increased to meet the expenses incurred by the above suggestions.
That we do not believe that all six members of the team should receive the Varsity letter, but I would suggest that the team winning the most matches from the other universities of the league be awarded the Varsity letters of that university. Another suggestion that I have heard was to give the letter to the members of the team who score points against Yale and Harvard. I feel that the former suggestion is the better because it would develop a high standard in the game and the number of steps would be just as important as the number of a.
It is safe to say that next year the intercollegiate championship will be held by a well-known club either in New York or Philadelphia and the date of the tournament will be changed from September to the latter part of June. This would undoubtedly be just as good as the annual meeting of the executive body in Philadelphia.

TENNIS

Beeman Urges It Be Made a Major Sport.

To the Editor of the Princetonian:

Sir:—I am writing this as a member of the Princetonian column, with an additional opportunity of urging its establishment as a major sport, thereby providing a large number of students with a place to work, which would be most beneficial to the university. I have talked with many other students who feel the same way and would be very interested in hearing from other students who share this opinion.

Very truly yours,

Struggling alternately in the hopeful. A goal that made the afternoon more unsatisfactory for football and the squad was sent in early.

P. H. Hogue '71, captain of the tenth eleven and a forward of the first magnitude, returned yesterday and took active part in coaching the forwards. Coach McCormick, who joined the squad on Wednesday, was assisting Coach Poe in teaching the scrum and gives us to try against the Varsity next week.

Pet Delin W. Va.

West Virginia has a season's record to date of four victories and one loss. They defeated the Southerners, 26 to 6, but 259 points were piled up against the other opposing eleven. Maryland admitted to the West Virginia, 15 to 0; Maryland State, 27 to 0; and Bethany, 66 to 6. To this year, the squad is composed of veteran material is shown by the fact that four men are playing for their fourth year, two for their third, and two for their second. Princeton will again be outwitted. Rodgers, at fullback, captains the eleven.

Visitors' Schedule

A special train brings the squad to the East, arriving in Philadelphia this morning. Practice will be held on Fran-Akin Field this afternoon, and the squad will attend the Garrick Theater to-night. The special train will arrive in Princeton to-morrow morning at 11:12. According to report, about 500 supporters are accompanying the squad from Morganstown.

GRENFELL IS FOUNDER OF WORK ON LABARAD COAST

Since he has become internationally famous through his work, Sir Wilfred has received numerous recognitions both in this country and in England. In 1907, he was decorated by King Edward as a Companion of the Order of the Bath. In 1909, he received two honorary degrees, an L.d. from Williams College, and an M.A. from Harvard University.

Two years later the honorary degree of M.D. was bestowed upon him by the University of Maryland and he was given an Honorary Fellowship of the College of Surgeons of America in 1915. During the war, Major Grenfell served in France with the Harvard Surgical Unit.

During the years spent in Labrador, Dr. Grenfell has written several very well-known books. Among these, the most famous are: "Tales of the Labrador", "Off the Rocks", "Down North on the Labrador", "Vigils of To-Day", and "The Harvest of the Sea".

introduced no. only in its extensive place but also in its defensive play. The large improvement is due to some extent to the addition to the squad of a number of men who have been playing baseball. Captain Savage is now playing inside left, while Green, who was in this position has been shifted to inside right. Zuberski, who has been out of the game with a bad ankle, is now playing goal in place of Schuman.

The Intercollegiate League includes Yale, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Princeton and Harvard.

weight is only 156 pounds, has improved a great deal since the beginning of the season and Coach Gernert expects the game with Yale to be a close one. Theしよう has the advantage of being an undefeated team while the Yale Freshmen have already met with defeat at the hands of the Maroons in September.

The practice yesterday afternoon consisted of signal drill and dummy scrimmage. Much time was also devoted to elucidating the fumbling which was so noticeable in the last game with Penn. The game which will start the game with Yale on Saturday is still unsettled due to the lack of definite knowledge concerning the eligibility of a few men.

The other big Freshman game is with Harvard and will take place Cambridge next Saturday, November 8.
