Ensign Reid to Meet Class V-5 Aspirants In Gym Until Friday

Those Accepted Until June — Sophomore and Juniors as Well as Juniors and Seniors.

PHYSICAL PREPARATION HERE

Ensign Whitlaw Reid of the U. S. Naval Reserve will be on hand in the gym all day today, tomorrow, and Friday to give physical tests to Juniors and Seniors interested in going into the Naval Reserve Air Force by taking flight training.

The program provides that Juniors and Seniors after enrollment in Class V-5 may be deferred from call to active duty until completion of their current academic year. Afterward they will be assigned to active duty training classes for a period of three years. They can be commissioned. Whether or not accelerating Junior aspirants will be allowed to graduate is a question currently pending in Washington.

Sophomores may be enlisted directly into active duty if they meet the minimum lower age requirement of 18 years, and are not taking less than one-year's academic program in the Navy. For those under this rule but not over 21, if they meet the other requirements, they can be commissioned. Whether or not accelerating Junior aspirants will be allowed to graduate is a question currently pending in Washington.

Arrangements have been made to appoint the following officers to enlist in the U. S. Naval Reserve Efficiency: a. 1st Lt. E. H. A. Devers, to command the 20th Bombardment Group, Texas, and the 6th Training Center, Indiana. b. Ensign G. Heri, to command the 20th Bombardment Group, Texas, and the 6th Training Center, Indiana. c. AMERICAS CULTURAL HERITAGE

President Dodds' announcement yesterday of a new program in the study of American civilization marks a significant addition to the already broad Princeton curriculum. The new plan, representing a synthesis of the resources of six departments, is particularly appropriate at a time when the nation is peculiarly sensitive to the values which we American's right place upon our heritage.

President Roosevelt clearly pointed the obligation of the American people when he said: "If the fires of freedom and civil liberties burn low in other lands, they must be made brighter in our own. If in other lands the press and books and literature of all kinds are censored, we must redouble our efforts to keep them free. If in other lands the eternal truths of the past are threatened by intolerance, we must provide a safe place for their perpetuation.

If this is our obligation, our leadership must start with a militant and thorough appreciation of what the American cultural heritage has meant in past decades, so that our interpretation of what we must mean in the future will be premised on a firm understanding of the cumulative experience of the past.

This program, like all of Princeton, must set us apart as leader in the spreading field of education that we must use our concept of life and human rights against totalitarianism in a death struggle, a sober, intelligent, and profound appreciation of the basic thoughts and traditions of American culture needs no justification; it need not ever be found for that appreciation in calm and objective analysis rather than in jingoistic expressions which start by meaning all to all men and good by meaning nothing to that—need exist in 1942.

But the new program is no emergency course plan "ticked" to meet the demands of the hour; it is the product of months of mature thought by representative of the several elements which unani- mously convinced that America's heritage deserves the attention and study of serious under- graduate scholars.

The President's announcement of the new program is happily free from any chord of immediate practicality. The University will sponsor the new program, he says, because

Honor System Constitution

(Published by the PRINCIPAL of this time in accordance with Article VIII)

Article I.

Section 1. There shall be a committee consisting of seven members who shall represent the student body and deal with all cases involving violations of the Honor System.

Section 2. The members of this committee shall be the Presidents of the four classes and three others, two to be members of the Senior Class and one a member of the Junior Class.

Section 3. The President of the Sophomore Class shall automatically become the second Junior member of the committee at the beginning of his Junior year. In case he is elected President of the Junior Class, the second Junior member of the committee shall be appointed by the Senior Council.

Section 4. The President of the Junior Class and the second Junior member of the committee shall automatically become members of the committee at the beginning of their Senior year. In case one of these Junior members is elected President of the Senior Class, the third Senior member, shall be appointed by the Senior Council.

Article II.

Section 2. If any member shall for any reason become incapacitated from fulfilling office, a member of the same class shall be appointed by the Senior Council.

Section 2. If any member shall continue to serve on the committee, the President of the Senior Class shall be the clerk.

Article III.

Section 1. The committee shall have power to have the accused persons witnesses, and to conduct a formal investigation. The committee shall determine whether the accused persons are guilty or not guilty of violating the Honor System. In case of conviction the penalty shall be recommended to the Faculty. After separation of the case, the accused shall have the option to appeal to the college or to the Family. If at this time the motion for suspension is not made, the recommendation to the Faculty shall be separation from the University.

Section 3. The committee shall make a single report to the Faculty of all cases acted upon during one session of examinations consisting of a brief resume of evidence taken, their decision in the case, and the recommendation of the penalty to be imposed.

Article IV.

Section 1. The place and time of meeting shall be left to the Chairman of the committee.

Section 2. The trial shall be formal and conducted in the following manner, with the President of the Senior Class as the chairman, and the President of the Junior Class as clerk. Witnesses against the accused shall be taken first and then testimony taken in full. The accused shall be called separately and allowed to make his statement, presenting witnesses for his defense. All witnesses and the accused may be questioned by members of the committee and a decision then rendered according to the law of the evidence.

Article V.

Section 1. The committee shall consist of any attempt to receive assistance from written or printed aids or from any persons, or in any attempt to give assistance, whether the one so doing has compiled his own paper or not. This rule holds both within and without the examination room during the entire time in which the examination is in progress, that is, until all papers have been handed in.

Section 2. Violations of the Honor System shall consist of any attempt to receive assistance from written or printed aids or from any persons, or in any attempt to give assistance, whether the one so doing has compiled his own paper or not. This rule holds both within and without the examination room during the entire time in which the examination is in progress, that is, until all papers have been handed in.

Section 4. Any person signing the pledge placed upon the examination paper shall be notified by the professor holding the examination, and if unable to sign he shall be reported to the committee for investigation. Inability to sign the pledge to an examination paper upon notification of the professor by the committee shall be prima facie evidence of violation of the Honor System.

Section 2. The pledge is as follows: “I pledge my honor as a gentleman that during this examination I have neither given nor received assistance.” This must at all times be written in full and signed by the student.

Article VI.

The several committees shall keep a record of all cases acted upon in their sessions, without mentioning the names of the accused, also a record of successive actions of mass meetings with respect to the Honor System. These records, together with the constitution, shall be preserved by the Senior member of the committee each year for the use of the directors of that committee.

Article VII.

This constitution may be amended by a majority vote of those present at a mass meeting of the college.

Article VIII.

The constitution shall be published in the DAILY PRINCIPAL during the first month of each college year, and within a week immediately preceding the mid-year and final examinations. It shall also be published in a pamphlet, copies of which shall be issued to every man upon admission to the University.
