Dr. Bunting Dies; Advanced Pathology

Dr. Charles Henry Bunting, father of Mrs. and Mrs. William Bunting, died in Princeton Hospital at 8:30 o’clock on Tuesday evening.

Bunting was a nationally known pathologist, Dr. Bunting was a professor of pathology in the University of Wisconsin and for ten years lecturer in pathology at the Medical School. His special fields of interest were in association with his pathologist, the University of Wisconsin, and the University of both. In association with Hodgkin’s disease, Bunting was a leading pathologist at the University of Wisconsin, and in 1904-05, he received his M.D. from the University of Wisconsin.

He was a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania in sociology and in 1904-05, he served as chairman of the pathology in Johns Hopkins University and pathologist in Baltimore’s Bayview Hospital. From 1903 to 1908, he taught at the University of Virginia.

Among other questions asked was the reason of Princeton as a place to live in competition with other communities, whether there would be support for the proposed swimming pool and new library building, and whether the Princeton community was set by the proposed swimming pool. The Princeton community was set by the proposed swimming pool.

The Princeton概念 is an alternative plan—in its search for funds sufficient for the adequate administration of its affairs... With grave concern at an increasingly difficult financial situation, the Princeton community was set by the proposed swimming pool. The Princeton community was set by the proposed swimming pool.

President, Princeton stated that Princeton University “has never had to face a financial crisis, nor will it face one in the future.”

The subject is broad and complicated and involves the University’s as well as the community’s resistance to the development plan.

Community Opinion Subject of Meeting

The meeting of the Community Opinion will be held at 8:00 o’clock on Tuesday evening.

The meeting will feature a discussion of the Princeton’s place in the world, with Dr. Bunting as the speaker.

Dr. Bunting is a well-known pathologist and has been a member of the Princeton community for many years.

He is author of numerous articles on pathology and has been a member of numerous professional organizations.

Dr. Bunting’s lecture will focus on the importance of pathology in modern medicine and its role in the development of new treatments and cures for disease.

The lecture will be followed by a Q&A session, where attendees will have the opportunity to ask questions and engage in discussion with Dr. Bunting.

The lecture is open to the public and is free of charge. Community members are encouraged to attend and share their thoughts and perspectives on this important topic.

Lack of Understanding Has Robbed Bible Of Deepest Meanings, Dr. Hammond Holds

Dr. Philip C. Hammond, assistant professor in Old Testaments in Princeton Theological Seminary, makes a plea to re-examine Biblical accounts in the May 28th issue of the Christian Advocate.

In his copyrighted article, "Messages and Values in the Old Testament," Dr. Hammond says that such use of Biblical materials strives to make that material lifelike, and hence to destroy the basically mythological nature of its content. To make this (myth, legends, and folk tales) commercially palatable to a larger, if not so quick audience, there is usually added a considerable dash of patriotism (tender parting), zest (sex), and rugged courage (pure). Often this entails the rewriting of most of the Biblical account, a necessary occurrence, so much gusto that a whole new body of tradition is being created, and accepted as Biblical today!

"The commercial use of the Biblical material is generally not involved in the matter of either fact or fancy. If the story is well known, and if a degree of spectacular backing can be given it, publicity will enable profits to be reaped. Literal 'realism' becomes the aim, and unfortunately, often is the achievement, of such ventures on the part of the commercial exploiters. No misunderstanding of the text is involved, but no real understanding is secured either. For the market demands it, and the reader, including those who make it their business to write the books, is just another fish story.

"It must be realized that whether or not a given part of the Old Testament is historical, or even literally true, is totally irrelevant both for its religious and for its critical evaluation. What is to be considered, above all else, is the inherent message which the vehicle is attempting to convey. The external form (mythos) is of no significance in terms of its content, except as an item of literary classification. It was the very genius which clothed truth in such concrete fashion that achieved its timeless transmission! The eternal quality of the Biblical message is embodied in the fact that the vehicles used for its conveyance can say the same thing to every age. Thus religious truth can still speak to the hearts of men with the same impact it had in its original form and the same content of the message by penetrating beneath its apparent form—by un- wrapping the outer cover to beheld the inner man.

"Therefore," concludes Dr. Ham- mond, "a plea must be made today to return to an appreciation of the Old Testament's use of literary devices, to accept them as they are, and to see them as vehicles of religious truth which must be recognized and understood... The Bible has been denuded and robbed of its truest and deepest meanings by complete lack of understanding. Let us eschew the pedantry of the Old Testament and make Biblical teaching and Biblical instruction as wide as the truth of the relations between man and God in the contemporary world!"

Facts About Sacred Heart Day School
Enumerated by Head of Advisory Board

The basic facts about the proposed Sacred Heart School have been presented in "an open letter to the residents of Princeton Township" by Russell G. Brown, chairman of the advisory committee of the school. The text follows:

As chairman of the Advisory Board of the proposed Sacred Heart School, I feel the community should be proud to welcome a dedicated teaching order such as the Sacred Heart.

2. The faculty will consist of 25-30 highly qualified teachers, fully accredited and meeting the high standards of the Sacred Heart curriculum.

3. When enrollment is completed, the country day school for girls will have complete first-rate educational facilities - kindergarten through Grade 12, for 300 academically qualified students.

4. The school's land-use permit application clearly requests a total of 55 acres for school purposes. Final plans for school buildings will cover less than 5 per cent of tract (less than 1¼ acres), according to the architect.

5. Under capable direction of Princeton Township Manager Labatut and Raymond Bowers, one-story buildings are planned, none to exceed the height of a two-story residence; park-like treatment of surrounding grounds and rural beauty will provide substantial buffer space between buildings and contiguous properties or roads.

Summer Baseball Try-Outs

Princeton Athletic Club baseball team opened a series of player try-outs on Thursday at the Princeton High School Field. Other try-outs are planned for June 5th, 10th and 15th. The team plays regulation baseball. There are no age limits for players, but they must be males.

Manager-coach will be Sandy Bing, 1961 assistant baseball coach at Hun School, 1960 manager at Labatut with whom Bing is associated. The field captain will be Tommy Petrone, last year's Hun baseball captain. Mr. Bing was a catcher for three years at Labatut.

The Tri-County League composed of Princeton, Hightstown, Montgomery Township and South Brunswick Township gets underway Tuesday, June 15th, with the first P.A.C. home game Thursday, June 13th.

Kamen, Kamen & Villiers to Give Kiwanis Adventure Series

For the third consecutive year, the Princeton Kiwanis Club has scheduled a series of adventures and explorers of its films in the Louise B. McCor-.

Last year's series included Lowell Thomas, Jr., the Af-

Happy Haggard, and the safarist, Irving Johnson.

Next fall the three programs will include a trip to the underwater world of the Argonauta with Robert Bruce, Reman Whi-

The program of the first 1961

series will be "5000 Years Under the Sea", produced and presented by Princeton, on October 10th. Mr. Waterman present-his balletic film, "Water World", during the first Kiwanis series in 1960. The new film tells the story of the first underwater archeonological expedition to the Argonauta,

by young American skin

and divers and resulting in the discovery of the ancient Age ships with 100 feet depth off the southeastern coast of Turkey. This treasure, the oldest ever found, dates back to 1300 B.C. The discovery of it was reported in National Geographic in June, 1960, issue. "2000

Mr. Waterman has worked with the former Triangle President and current McCarter Theatre manager, Brooks Jones, to create an original music composition for this film, using folk music of the Argonauta world at a modern jazz.

On November 7th, Mr. Kamen will present the second film of the series, his award-winning "The Splendor of Peru". Highlights of his film include oil fields so rich that petroleum comes to the surface without wells; the tombs of Darius and Xerxes at Persepolis; the caviar industry from the catching of the giant sturgeon to the finished product; and a close-up look at the life and ways of the remote Kashgai tribe.

The final program of the series will bring Captain Villiers with his film, "Monsieur Adventure". Captain Villiers, like Clifford Kamen, is a regular contributor to the National Geographic Magazine and is known for his seafaring adventures, including bringing a copy of the Mayflower across the Atlantic. "Monsieur Adventure" is a story of his rambles among the Indian Ocean and the Maldives Islands.

Tickets for the series of three pro-respective needs of the area. Thus we have, by mutual agreement, finally resolved its problems. If we do not agree, Princeton, will be torn by extreme misunderstandings which can only re result in poor management and possibly a lack of continuity.

I wish to express my appreciation to those who have looked upon the Princeton future as the one which I have been a part of. I hope that the future of this University will be a bright one.

If you have any further questions, feel free to contact me at the University of New Mexico, 500 San Felipe Street, Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Sincerely,

Dr. Gheen

P.S. I am pleased to announce that our new president, Dr. James E. Pierson, will be inaugurated on September 1, 1964.

TREES OWNER

Many of our beautiful Elms died in 1960 due to Dutch Elm Disease, many more are guaranteed for Elm wilt will die in 1961, now is the time to arrange for a yearly tree care program.

Such pests as Elm Bark and Elm Leaf Beetle, Pine Saw Fly, Pine Shoot Moth, Golden Oak, Juniper, and European Scales, Lace Bug, Wing Fly and Spider Mites, as well as several others must be considered in your spray program, also certain Leaf spots, Leaf blights, Rusts and Cankers.

Selecting the best and mixing just the right combination of the many available and relatively harmless chemicals available to give maximum control without burning, in both fruit and shade tree work, requires a comprehension of the fact that the ecological, cultural and climatic environment in which the life histories of all insects and diseases involved.

We specialize in diagnosing tree conditions and prescribing effective formulas to you without charge or obligation.

Most tree owners are delighted with the scope of SHEARER TREE SURGURS examination and the interesting facts and sidelights it reveals.
